

Formatting a Command

Simple method

I don't know how I (State what you want) I only know it is so now and I am fulfilled.

The Simple Flip

Example: I never get what I want The Flip: I always get what I want

Command:

I don't know how I always get what I want I only know I do now and I am fulfilled!

Exercise: Ask your client

What is something you would like to change but haven't been able to until now?

What is the opposite of this experience to you?

Now make the new statement out loud and ask does that feel true?

Now create your command:

I don't know how I _____, I only know I do now /it is so now and I am fulfilled.

Now Let's Go Deeper

When you think about being afraid (or the situation you want to change), what feelings or emotions are you aware of? Think in terms of how you feel it, For example jittery, constricted, heavy weight, blank, tiny, pressure in chest, etc.

What would you like to feel instead? Ex. Light, strong, comfortable, big, expansive

Now state your command using the feeling you do want instead

I don't know how I am _____ I only know I am now and I am fulfilled.

Now go back and check on the limiting emotion. How does it feel now?

Get information and make another command until all negatives change to positive or neutral.

Forming the Right Command Exercise 1-4.

Partner Exercise Creating Contrast (The Flip) Format

1. What are you experiencing now & what do you want instead?
2. As you identify the negative simply write the opposite in the positive column.
3. Once you have “run to the end” of the negative statements form your commands based on the positive column.
4. Repeat this exercise 4 times
 - i. 1st time with word descriptions of their experience
 - ii. 2nd time with feeling descriptions (tight, hard, heavy)
 - iii. 3rd time with what they can’t have as a result of the problem vs what they will get as a result of the change
 - iv. 4th time with only colors (I’m having a blue experience but I want a green one instead)
5. In each section and form a Command
6. Using the short cut take your client through the six steps process
