

Cash Rich Handbook

Week 7

The Spirit of Your Money

Attending to your money from a higher ideal provides unseen benefits.

Personalizing your money brings it into a more intimate relationship with you.

Recognizing the real presence of cash consciousness emboldens you and cash to work cooperatively for your greater wealth.

The Mystery of Success

Are you willing to set aside your notions of how you create a rich life and be open to some new, revealing ideas?

It is not your talent that limits your wealth. It is not scarcity. It is dead-end thinking.

Outside thinking: Why is it that a fortunate few seem to have a phenomenal talent for success, and the rest seem destined to endless struggle?

Inside thinking: If you aren't as wealthy and cash rich as you want to be as yet - we can say with absolute certainty that the answer is an inside job - deep unconscious programs that inhibit your phenomenal innate talent and gifts.

Remember, Wattles says, "It is your obligation to be wealthy rich."
It is necessary to be fully realized with every opportunity.

You possess the same innate success, talents, and ability as those who are wealthy. If you are not where you want to be, you probably are like many others who come right up to the edge of their success and stop at that mysterious demarcation line of, "I can't go any further."

Here you are on one side of the line not having real success - and on the other side of the line is absolute breathtaking success.

Right now there is an amazing window of opportunity that has just opened up - if you recognize it. How would you feel if you met and exceeded your cash rich goals?

How would you feel if you exercised your innate power under any circumstances and designed and implemented your own success?

How would it feel to know your family's wants and needs were more than taken care of and you were in control of your own financial destiny?

We'd like to invite you to take a ride into your greater intelligence – your unlimited mind where success is the only option, and to have an experience of consciously meeting yourself in another portion of your mind – your extraordinary capacity to see, imagine, connect and create in cooperation with the universe. Yes - it is on your side!

Cash Consciousness

What is cash consciousness? Everything that has been created from the energy of the universe started as an open potentiality - unformed and unfixed.

The ability to provide for your survival and sustenance is contained in a universe within you that knows every aspect of your physical and emotional body in your DNA blueprint.

You have cellular knowledge of universal intelligence beyond your comprehension, and by your intention you can make conscious contact with that intelligence.

Speaking to Cash as a Friend

As everything in the physical world is derived from the same atoms of matter – all physical forms have consciousness – including cash.

You can develop a deep level relationship with cash as a contributing factor to your rich life by treating cash as your ally and friend.

AND CASH RESPONDS.....

Conversations with Cash

- Treat cash as you would a friend.
- Give plenty of praise and appreciation to cash.
- Do you like cash – then cash will like you and appear readily and easily in your wallet, bank account and investments.
- Do you speak badly about cash – then it will disappear and you'll go to your wallet and it will be empty.

Cash says - We are here to tell you that there is something so profoundly deep and worthy within you to receive great good, to receive great wealth, to receive greatness, and to have it come to you in a relaxed easy way that is beyond your ability to accept at this moment.

Open to accepting this reality. You are worthy!

When you tune into cash consciousness - the embodiment of this consciousness of cash that is available and real - then you begin to create your life in mysterious ways.

If you have been trained through your family and your society and your culture to believe that it is not spiritual to be rich, or that it is prohibitive to have cash, or that people with lots of cash are poor-minded and poor-spirited - then of course, you are going to reject the notion that there is a richness within you that could be expressed through money and to see it as the material expression of exchange.

The denomination of money as a colorful bill, as a clinking coin – has the sound of possibilities in creating what you desire.

Cash represents the idea of freedom - it represents the idea of expansion of consciousness within you.

If you are asking for a material amount of cash, then you are asking for the creation within you that it is possible. It is that state of beingness within you that says, "I am one with the universe and I create my cash easily."

You are the universe. You are in harmony with the universe. You are the galaxy. You are the embodiment of cash. You are cash consciousness. And, you are the expression of that cash consciousness in your daily life.

Everything has an embodiment of consciousness within it that is speaking to you all the time in its own conversation. For example, the conversation of the beautiful flower is to say, "Adore me. I adore you".

I feel the sense of adoration. I feel the sense of love in the adoration of that beautiful bouquet and the scent of that bouquet.

And what if a bouquet of thousand dollar bills were sitting in your home would it have any less of an empowerment to nurture you than the flowers? It is for you to decide.

You can decide that a bouquet of cash flowers, or a beautiful piece of art made of coins, or relics of the past represented by actual cash, would be wonderful new ways to appreciate cash.

I accept cash.
