

The DNA of Success:

How to Release untapped
Ability and Intelligence with
The One Command®

Video #7

by Asara Lovejoy, author of The One Command

All the material in The DNA of Success and The One Command® is copyrighted material and may not be copied, facsimiled, sent by electronic transmission, or duplicated in any manner without consent of the author.

We Support You on the Journey

One of the strongest held beliefs I embrace is that we are doing this life together and any advancement I make in my thinking and self-actualization benefits you and any growth and self-actualization you make, benefits me and the world as well. In fact there is actual evidence that as you make some small change in what you believe is possible rather than impossible you make a quantum change in the group collective consciousness of more than one million folks. That is pretty impressive.

Realize then your true worth and value of every thought you think and every wish hope and dream you realize are making it possible for the rest of us to do the same.

Many times I speak about continued education with a mentor, coach or trainer and how valuable that has been for me. I encourage you to do the same and we have a special invitation for you to continue with our One Command Executive Success Coaching Certification and our Training to become a One Command Seminar Leader.

Visit The One Command Success University section to find out more at www.successbyyourcommand.com

The Power of a New Beginning

When creating through The One Command[®], with the equal amount of desire that you have expended when wanting a thing in the past, and in the equal strength of desire, to attract your good to you, then you can have a greater sense of accomplishment and fulfillment within yourself, You already are a master in creating the life you have now and you can direct that same energy into creating even greater good and success by connecting to all that is already you through your theta brain wave.

You can say: If I use the same amount of desire that I have when I want something that I think I have to have, that must be in my life right now, and not a moment longer; I can transfer that same amount of emotion and feeling to that which I desire as great success in my life, and that I must have right now, and be fulfilled.

As you continue to be in that resonance of the desire of receiving and fulfilling your success vision, and you combine that with going to theta to manifest what you desire, you are able to have the recognition and experience of great success.

As you come to terms with controlling the energies of the collective unconscious and use your own discernment and truth of that which is right for you, then your cash, emotional satisfaction and riches will increase in like measure.

THIS IS A NEW TEACHING!

YOU ARE LEARNING ANOTHER WAY

THIS IS THE WAY OF SUCCESS

Time

Sometimes, there is a time delay in reversing the flow of your money that you have been sending away from you to a flow towards you. How many years have you declared your lack? Continue Commanding your good!

Have you seen what happens when a steamboat reverses direction? The motion of the back pedal churns up the water in a magnificent and powerful manner, and then the boat begins its re-directed motion forward.

Time delay is like the paddle wheel on the river. To stop the flow in one direction, the boat must have time to come to idle, and to then to move in the opposite direction. The time delay is that pause, but then the new flow arrives.

What is wonderful and amazing is that no matter what age you are, or your financial circumstances, this process works every time, in changing your financial lack, to money, cash and prosperity!

Yes, you may experience the churning of the muddy waters to reveal the debris of your old thinking as you re-direct yourself to prosperity. Those past thoughts that you have energized with fear will show up as they are on their way out.

Be steadfast and realize that you have sent your thoughts to your future and now they have to be finalized and brought to a halt before the thoughts that you are creating now have impact. The residue of those old thoughts have to be churned out of the muddy waters - so keep going forward in faith, with your new way of thinking and being, until you arrive. Then look back at the journey and call yourself proud for what you have done.

The Chemicalization of Change

Your body is de-structuring and restructuring. Your body is releasing matter, old thought forms, and energy and creating new neurological synapses to create your new reality. Be willing to let this happen. Notice the resistance, or lack of resistance in your body, as this change takes place.

Love yourself through it, breathe through it, exercise and rest until you harmonize these new energies within you.

Accepting change now accelerates your growth and changes the matter of your thoughts to attract that which you desire. The process of de-structuring always coincides with the new patterns that you are creating because your thoughts have materialized the reality that you have.

To change that reality it must come to its natural conclusion, or become transformed in its energy from the old form into the new form.

Continue to write new codes in your DNA to activate your success!

Through our many One Command programs we address different aspects of who you are and what you want to accomplish in a variety of ways. Each program focuses on one main area, for example, success or health or increasing your rich cash world or changing old family programs and old beliefs.

Each application is also set up to bring about new conditions and behaviors unconsciously within you so that you naturally see your life improve.

Even when problems arrive –as they will always do – you are less attached in fear and more confident – expecting a good result and getting it.

Please continue with us on this most important journey of discovering the power of who you truly are – that in fact is the most fascinating adventure of all.

And I thank you most ardently from the top of my head to the tips of my toes for being a part of the teachings of the One Command. Thank you for your sincerity and dedication to awakening the greatness that resides right within you.

In great and enjoyable success,

Asara Lovejoy.